

Technology

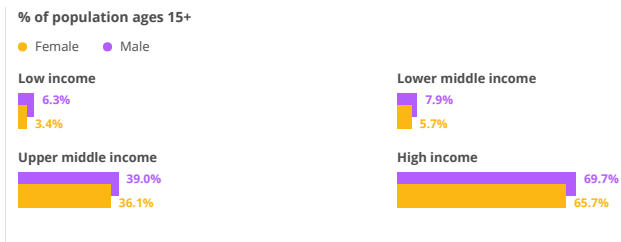

Access to internet, computers, and mobile phones, as well as knowledge of digital or technical skills allow women to access information, education, health resources, and more jobs.

Use of a mobile phone or the internet to access an account by sex and income group

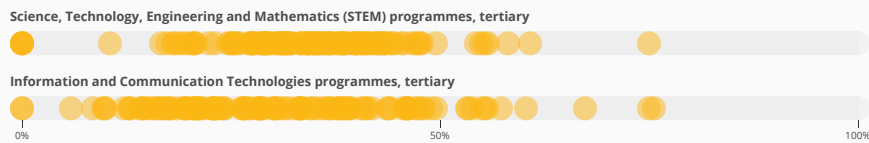

Source: Global Findex database

Use of the internet to pay bills or buy something online in the past year by sex and income group

Source: Global Findex database

Female share of graduates (% of total graduates in the given field of tertiary education)

Source: UNESCO Institute for Statistics (<http://uis.unesco.org/>). Data as of March 2020.